

Seven Meet Death, Nine Injured When Air Liner Crashes

Eddie Rickenbacker, Ace of American World War Fliers, Hurt

Atlanta, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Dropping away from a radio beam, an Eastern Air Lines plane ripped itself to pieces in a pine woods near here today, killing seven and injuring nine others, including famed flier Eddie Rickenbacker.

The 14-passenger sleeper banged against a wooded knoll shortly after 1 a. m. (midnight, C. S. T.) while attempting a beam landing after a run from New York but searchers didn't find the wreckage until shortly after dawn when an injured passenger made his way to a phone to call for help.

Five miles from the airport and 700 yards from the nearest dirt road, rescue work was painfully slow and it was not until mid-morning that seven bodies had been removed from the smashed cabin and nine injured taken to hospitals.

At one time Divisions Operating Manager L. H. Pabst told newsmen that the death list was 10 but a re-check of hospitals and undertakers showed only seven dead, although two or three of the injured were in critical condition.

Seven Bodies Brought In
Undertakers reported seven bodies brought in. Three of these were identified as those of the crew, Captain James Perry, Copilot, L. E. Thomas and Steward Clarence Moore, all of New York. The other four bodies were those of passengers listed on the official EAL roster as:

Rep. William D. Byron (D-Md.) of Williamsport, Md.; B. C. M. Vanderhoop, Scarsdale, N. Y.; Juan Maria, San Salvador, Central America, and A. Leibowitz, Atlanta.

Identification of the dead passengers was made difficult by the fact that they were dressed in pajamas, some of them having been asleep in the plane's berths.

Of the nine in hospitals, those in the most serious condition seemed to be Rickenbacker, who had a broken left leg and back injuries of undetermined extent; H. A. Littledale, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, from Short Hills, N. J., whose injuries were not determined at once, and Mrs. Littledale.

Two Walk from Wreckage
J. S. Rosenfeld of New Orleans and H. Hansell of the Bronx, N. Y., both were able to walk away from the shattered plane, the former giving the alarm that brought searchers to the isolated crash scene which is about five miles southeast of the airport and some 15 miles from Atlanta.

Hansell also called help about dawn when he stumbled out of the splintered skylight, saw a small dog and followed it to the home of farmer J. T. Lee, where he was able to use the phone to call the airport.

The first doctor to reach the scene climbed aboard the half overturned hulk of the cabin to administer hypodermics to the injured, including Rickenbacker.

The one-time ace war flier was conscious and calmly gave directions for removal of himself and some of the other passengers.

"I lay all night on top of poor Moore and couldn't move," he said. Moore, the steward, apparently was killed outright.

After being removed, he asked for a second hypodermic and when stretcher-bearers started carrying him down a ravine, the stretcher started to buckle and he said:

"Easy boys, don't bump me—doesn't anyone know how to work this thing?"

Trapped Woman Brave
Mrs. Littledale was trapped in the wreckage, pinned down by a fallen tree but when rescuers approached she told them:

"I'm all right; see what you can do to help the others."

Littledale and his wife, who is editor of Parents' Magazine, were en route to Mexico on a vacation trip.

The plane fell miles from a paved highway and about 700 yards from the nearest dirt road on which ambulances could travel, so that the injured had to be carried this distance across a muddy cornfield.

Rosenfeld was thrown clear of the plane and made his way about 20 yards in the darkness, where he fell into a ditch. Injured and shocked, he lay there until dawn, when he made his way to the farm home of C. C. Sherman near Morrow, about five miles south of the airport.

Help Called After 6 Hours
Sherman took him to a small store, and Rosenfeld telephoned for help shortly after 6 a. m.

Brady, who lay injured near the plane's wreckage, kept shouting to rescuers:

"For God's sake, don't light any

President Getting Plans Set to Rush All Aid to Britain

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said today that President Roosevelt would continue a series of conferences with war, navy, state and treasury department heads so that "we will not be guilty of a minute's more delay than we can prevent" when Congress acts finally on the British aid bill.

Much work remains to be done in gearing the administration to handle the aid program, Early said. Several conferences were held yesterday.

Early was asked "how far has the President progressed on these talks on setting up machinery on the lease-lend program?"

"Not nearly so far as the headlines this morning indicated," he said. "The stories read pretty well but the headlines have him moving supplies from arsenals and getting ready to make a complete and immediate turnover. That is not so."

Meanwhile Senator Chavez (D-NM) and Senator Brown (D-Mich) took up the cudgels today on the British aid bill, Chavez contending the legislation invited war while Brown argued that it was the best, "the only weapon" at hand for the self-defense of American democracy.

Some Fear Flibuster

With the general debate on its tenth day, some supporters of the bill manifested fresh uneasiness over the possibility of a surprise opposition filibuster, despite an agreement to start consideration of amendments next week.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) said he would not be surprised at such tactics, and announced that in such an event he would favor closure of debate. Normally consideration of amendments signifies the approach of a final roll call, but it was pointed out that opposition senators could continue to speak at any length during the amendment discussion, if they wished.

Closure—which requires a two-thirds majority—would impose drastic limitations on any speechmaking. No senator would be allowed to address the chamber more than once, and his time allotment would be one hour.

Van Nuys voiced belief that enough votes were available to impose closure—but a number of colleagues seemed very dubious about this point.

Says "Bill Spells War"
Chavez, meanwhile, carried on speech he prepared for Senate delivery, he declared that the pending bill "spells W-A-R."

"The United States must come first," Chavez continued, "and if I have only one gun, I shall not see it through the middle and send one-half overseas."

"I challenge any member to name one single instance in which, under this bill, the defense of the United States will be advanced. I must insist immediately that the

Bethlehem Mill at Lackawanna Hit by Strike Last Night

CIO Leaders Predict the Strike May Spread to Other Plants

(By The Associated Press)

The Bethlehem steel mill at Lackawanna, N. Y., important production source of defense armament, was hit by a strike today which in its earliest stages brought a flare of violence.

C. I. O. strikers deployed in a two-mile picket line before the seven gates of the huge plant. Early today there were reports that clubs had swung against the windows and bodies of automobiles which carried employees toward their jobs in the mill.

The strike fell promptly on a previously-announced deadline, 9 p. m. last night, after an unproductive conference between the Steel Workers Organizing Committee (C. I. O.) and representatives of the National Defense Commission and the Federal Conciliation Service.

The Lackawanna mill employs 14,000 men, and union leaders declared the strike might spread soon to other Bethlehem plants, at Bethlehem, Johnstown, and Pottstown, Pa.

Three hours after the strike broke, John Riffe, an assistant director of S. W. O. C., called it "one of the most effective I've ever seen."

On the other hand the plant's general manager, Edward F. Entwistle, called the strike a "dismal failure" and said only one bar mill was shut down for lack of workers.

The union is demanding a 25 per cent wage boost, a collective bargaining election, and reinstatement of several hundred workers "indefinitely suspended" by the company. A Bethlehem spokesman said the men were suspended because of "sit-downs," refusal to work, and damage to company property.

Ford Faces Threat
Another giant industrial organization, the Ford Motor Company at Detroit, faced the threat of a strike at three plants employing nearly 95,000 men.

The C. I. O. United Automobile Workers filed a formal motion with the Michigan labor mediation board of its intention to strike at Ford's Lincoln, Rouge and Highland Park factories.

However, under Michigan law a 30-day cooling off period must intervene before the strike could take effect, C. I. O.-U. A. W. A. leaders telegraphed President Roosevelt that they were prepared to adjust the grievances without striking, if an avenue to that end could be opened.

Their message charged that the company had "flagrantly" violated an NLRB order to desist from labor practices characterized as unfair, including, they asserted, attempts to dissuade employees from joining the union. I. A. Capizzi, Ford counsel, declared none of the union charges was true.

Talk of "Supreme Court"

While the developments at the Bethlehem Steel and Ford Motor plants were shaping up, high officials at Washington were reported discussing the possibility of forming an 11-member, non-salaried "supreme court" labor board to determine and publish facts in labor disputes where the regular federal conciliation service was not able to effect a settlement.

Well-informed sources said that if such a board were created by executive order, it likely would include four representatives of labor, four of employers, and three persons to represent the public.

Other labor developments included:

Sehring Becomes Acting Warden of Prisons at Joliet

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—State Welfare Director Rodney

H. Brandon today said that George Sehring, deputy warden at the two state prisons at Joliet, would serve as acting warden to succeed Warden Joseph E. Ragen, who resigned yesterday to accept a Federal post.

Resignations of three members of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission also were made public by Governor Dwight D. Green's office.

Sehring will take over his duties as acting warden Saturday, although Ragen will be retained on the payroll until April 1, Director Brandon said. The extra month's salary takes the place of a vacation to which Ragen is entitled, he said.

Warden Since 1933

Ragen, who also served as State Superintendent of Prisons under the late Governor Henry Horner, had been warden at Joliet since 1933. He said he was resigning to take "something better."

Those resigning from the IERC are John T. Reardon, Quincy attorney; Melvin L. Straus, Chicago banker; and George A. Fish, Springfield banker. Reardon and Fish were appointed last November by former Governor John Stelle. Straus was appointed in 1935 by Governor Horner.

Earlier this week, Governor Green said that he had consulted with Edward L. Ryerson, Chicago industrialist, and A. F. Shafter, Decatur manufacturer, concerning appointment to the relief commission but that no definite action had been taken.

Oregon Soldier Dies, Result of Stabbing

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Reno Murdock, 23, of Oregon, Duncan Field soldier, died in Fort Sam Houston hospital today of stab wounds.

Murdock, in company with two other soldiers, was stabbed in the right chest and lung, police investigators reported, during an altercation. His assailant, police said, has been identified as a widely-known character. The man has not been arrested.

Ingenious

Freeport, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Ray Williams, superintendent of mails at the Freeport postoffice, was successful in his ingenious investigation to locate the owner of a faultily addressed package.

He discovered that the parcel contained small kodak films and pictures, so with the aid of a powerful magnifying glass he obtained the license number of an automobile shown in one of the photos.

From then on Williams' task of locating the address—an "Anna J. Peth," no address—proved comparatively simple. From then on Williams' task the license had been issued to Tony Petta, 719 Wineshield street. And to Miss Anna Petta, Williams had the package delivered.

Events in Balkans, Far East Verge on Explosion Point, Late Advices Say

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The bloody clashes between the police in Nazi-occupied Amsterdam, Holland, and Dutch "disturbers of the peace", is perhaps the most important of the big news events of the past twenty-four hours.

Its significance lies in the fact that it is the rash which tells us of a malady that is taking a hold on Europe—a growing opposition to the overlordship of Germany. We don't hear much of this, because of fear and censorship, but if you watch carefully you will see that it is there.

Thus far the occupants have been accepted in most countries with a smouldering, passive resistance, but in many cases this has broken out into active opposition to the Nazi conquerors. Undercover sabotage and refusal to cooperate with the German administration long has been apparent in numerous countries—notably Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Holland and France.

The point of all this is, of course, that quite apart from any active resistance, a refusal by the civilian population to cooperate with the overloads means that government and industry cannot function properly. This has been one of the chief weapons of the Chinese against the Japanese invaders—refusal to cooperate. It is one of Hitler's gravest dangers. My tip is to watch it if you would know how the conquest of Europe goes.

Much more sensational would seem to be the announcement that German troops are in action in Italian Libya and have clashed with the British south of Benghazi. Still, I personally can't give that very high rating in military importance at this juncture. The fascists have made the most of the news, presumably to cheer up the Italian public, but the German communiqué recorded a "skirmish" between "German and English" motorized reconnaissance squads. In other words, there has been a small spat among a handful of men.

There has been no indication that the Germans have managed to smuggle any large number of troops through the British blockade. No threat has appeared thus far to the very strong British position.

Whether the moral effect on the Italian people will be good remains to be seen. They may raise the question as to whether the appearance of Germans to bolster the fallen fortunes of the great Marshall Graziani doesn't in effect write the epitaph of Italy's African empire.

Certainly they will have further food for reflection when they learn that the British have captured Mogadiscio, capital of Italian Somaliland, thereby apparently gaining control of the whole of the Italian empire. This is the first of the Italian empire.

Another Italian loss cropped up in an unexpected spot yesterday when the British occupied the island of Castellorosso, close to the Turkish coast, and the easternmost of Rome's strategic Dodecanese islands. Castellorosso is a seaplane base.

It wouldn't be surprising to see the British try to take over more of these Italian islands. They would be of vast military value if the Germans struck through Bulgaria at Greece or Turkey. Possession of Castellorosso would be of great assistance in an attack on the other islands.

Such a move would be popular with Turkey which long has been anxious against these Italian bases right up against her coast.

Clinton Buckaloo Will Probated in Co. Court

The will of Clinton C. Buckaloo of this city, who died Feb. 18, was admitted to probate in Lee County court today. The will provides that the residence property located at 316 Spruce street and the personal effects of the deceased be left to the widow. The farm and equipment in Nelson township is bequeathed to the three children.

71 Indicted on Charges of Lottery; Eight-State, Million Dollar Racket

Pittsburgh, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A Federal grand jury today indicted 71 persons on charges of violating postal laws in the operation of an eight-state lottery, which post office agents described as a "million dollars" enterprise and one of the largest of its kind in the nation.

Acting on a complaint entered by Acting U. S. Attorney George Mashank, the grand jury returned indictments charging the 71 with using the mail for furtherance of a lottery and with conspiracy to violate postal regulations through distribution of a lottery based chiefly on the treasury balance and sports results.

Report Russia Has Changed Attitude Regarding Nazis

(By The Associated Press)

Trouble in the Balkans and the Far East verged on the explosion-point late today.

Japan was reported to have delivered an ultimatum—expiring Friday midnight—to French Indo-China, demanding acceptance of Japan's "final" proposal of mediation in the conflict between Thailand (Siam) and Indo-China.

A refusal by France's Far East colony might result in Tokyo enforcing her demands by full military control over Indo-China—a further expansion southward—and possibly precipitate counter-action from Australian troops massed on the Malay border, facing Thailand.

Britain and Turkey have reached "full agreement" on the crisis in the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean, dispatches from Ankara said today, while Russia was reported to have raised objections to the passage of German troops through Bulgaria.

Russia's attitude, it appeared, may form a turning-point in the matter of Germany's intentions in southeast Europe.

Yugoslavia Speeds Up

Yugoslavia apparently was determined to resist any Nazi attempt to march through her territory to reach Greece. Dispatches from Belgrade said the Yugoslavians; general staff had ordered a speed-up in defense preparations, fearing that German armies now massed in Rumania might try to pass through Yugoslavia instead of Bulgaria.

Yugoslavia's Foreign Minister Aleksander Cincar-Marcovic was called back unexpectedly to Belgrade from Budapest, capital of Hungary, where he had arrived only yesterday to sign a Yugoslav-Hungarian treaty of friendship.

Diplomatic quarters in Budapest heard that this abrupt recall was connected with "impending events of importance between the axis and Yugoslavia."

Far Eastern Situation

In the Far East, Japan ordered her nationals to be prepared to leave French Indo-China and arranged to take what the Japanese press described as "appropriate measures" in the event of a breakdown in peace negotiations between Thailand (Siam) and Indo-China.

Domel, Japanese news agency, said a climax was expected within 48 hours, "with present indications not too optimistic."

Japan has been reported to have sought military and economic concessions from the French colony as the price for mediating the Far Eastern dispute, and has massed warships in the Gulf of Siam.

Ready for action, thousands of Australian troops have been sent to man British defense posts on the Malay border, facing Thailand.

In the war at sea, the Germans painted another black picture for Britain's all-important convoy system.

Claim 16 Ships Sunk

Berlin asserted that the Nazi Luftwaffe sank or damaged 16 ships totalling 102,500 tons in an attack on a British convoy yesterday 315 miles off the west coast of Ireland. Nine ships were reported sunk, three heavily damaged and four others damaged to a lesser degree.

Hitler's high command declared further that a Nazi speedboat sank a 4,500-ton armed merchantman off the English coast.

The Germans acknowledged meanwhile that "British agitators" may be landing by parachute and by swift motorboats at night in The Netherlands, where Nazi authorities yesterday clamped down military rule to break a series of riots and strikes.

"There is no preventing parachutists from landing," a German spokesman said, "and some boats might reach the coast."

"Under the circumstances, the low countries are a fertile ground for agitators."

Member of Britain's Bulgarian Staff 'Lost'

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 27.—(AP)—British quarters here said today the mysterious disappearance of a member of the staff of the Sofia legation may lead to a break in diplomatic relations between Britain and Bulgaria.

The man is Wodin Grenovitch, British passport officer, Russian by birth but a naturalized British subject.

Associates of Grenovitch said they had "good reason to believe" he was taken off a train while en route from Sofia to Istanbul, Turkey, "by Bulgarian police at the behest of the Germans."

LEE CENTER

The Lee Center gun club will go to Dixon Tuesday night.

Mrs. F. L. John and Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons visited Robert John at Monmouth College in Monmouth Sunday of last week.

A seven o'clock scramble supper in the Hark school will be held Tuesday night by the Bradford community club as a farewell gathering for the Anthony Johnson and George Warner families, members of the club who will soon be moving from the community.

The local Rebekah lodge voted Friday night to sponsor a dance in the I. O. O. F. hall in the near future.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:
"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Even Peace Is No Picnic
Word that after March 1 the people of Italy will no longer be permitted to manufacture cake or ice cream serves to call attention once more to the plight of nearly all European countries, including that of England, which is bad enough in time of peace but infinitely worse in war.

Nearly all these countries do not raise sufficient food for their own needs. A few have surpluses of certain commodities for export, but they in turn must import other staples to maintain a balanced diet.

We in America can supply ourselves with all necessary foodstuffs, right out of our own fields. True, we import coffee, bananas and a few other articles, but these are not needed to keep us from starvation. If we were to be blockaded by some super-colossal navy we'd be angered by lack of our coffee and exotic fruits, but we would not miss a meal nor lose a pound of weight as long as our soil retained its fertility.

Nearly every European country must import at least part of its rations of such staples as wheat and potatoes, as well as much fruit and even fodder and grains for livestock. In order to obtain the funds with which to buy these commodities abroad, they must manufacture and export finished goods. They must transact this business in order to live comfortably.

We in the United States find it necessary to import certain so-called strategic or essential metals and a few other commodities such as rubber, in order to maintain our standard of living. But if necessary—barring the need of such articles for defense against aggression—we could dispense with them and still live comfortably, although in very simple fashion.

Most of us have an idea what the war overseas is about. Hitler's aims included control of certain raw materials. His march into Poland, Czechoslovakia, Austria and the other countries was military strategy. If he could control them he would have a lever for control of foreign resources; but if he had the foreign resources he'd have to spend much of his profits defending them. England has enormous resources, but hasn't been able to pay the bills incurred in defending them. The British standard of living has not been high; probably no higher than that in the Germany of pre-World War days. It must be admitted that England has been the head of a wealthy empire, but England has been land-poor.

When this war is over, if a just peace is going to be established with the idea of providing higher standards of living for all the peoples of Europe, some thought must be applied to the task of making resources available to every European who is willing to work and develop them. If the peace-makers could think more in terms of individual men, women and children, and less in terms of nations and geographic boundaries—as we do here in the United States—there would be less danger of another war. Guns may subdue insurgents, but shrapnel will not settle an economic problem.

We Americans, if we should choose to think of ourselves primarily as Illini, Iowans, Californians and such, could quickly reduce ourselves to a situation in which such people as the Illini couldn't feed themselves without kowtowing to the others. Instead, we think of each other as humans. That's another American blessing.

Mussolini Reassures Us
In a speech before his most trusted deputies, Premier Mussolini has stated that the axis has no intention of invading the United States. We don't know how well qualified Mr. Mussolini is to speak for Hitler, or to bind Hitler to any pledge it duce cares to make. But we are tickled positively pink to know that Benito himself hasn't any designs against this country.

For a time it looked as though Benito, having conquered the British in Africa and the Greeks in Greece, would just keep rolling irresistibly along and arrive here before he could stop himself.

Every American will be gratified to know that when Benito has squelched the Greeks, which he says he will get around to do some day, and the British who have tried his patience; and after he has recaptured Ethiopia, he will be satisfied with those small gains and not pick on this tiny American democracy.

When we heard him talking a few years ago we got the idea that a single squad of his fascist would take on the whole world; but events have proved his bark is worse than his bite.

Blackouts have increased the sale of bottled beer in Germany. And we thought too many bottles caused blackouts.

A Detroit boy of 16 who drove off in a stolen auto was going in the wrong direction.

A man was pinched for sleeping in a Los Angeles movie. We think we've seen that picture.

"Don't worry" makes a much better motto when you add "others".

Tomatoes originally were called love apples—and they're still best taken with a grain of salt.

Enemies are friends you made the mistake of losing.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Feb. 26.—The staggering total of $28,000,000,000 for the two-year defense program is already obsolete. Offered by Mr. Roosevelt less than two months ago, and then considered the greatest sum of money ever mentioned as cost of a specific effort, it is already beginning to appear as just the first splash in a deep bucket.

Roosevelt has been edging it up by degrees with the submission of supplemental estimates for the army and navy until now it is swollen to about $31,000,000,000 to $32,000,000,000—and the British lend-lease program is yet to be financed.

A new appropriation of $4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 for what the British want is in the process of inner preparation. It will be submitted to congress by the White House as soon as the sell-lend-lease-give-away bill is adopted.

This will hike the now visible cost to around $36,000,000,000, which is roughly 50 per cent more than Roosevelt's budget calculated early in January.

The federal debt, which everyone seems to have been worrying about until bigger worries recently developed, is only $9,000,000,000 more than the program as thus far developed. The inconceivable sum involved can be gauged somewhat vaguely if you consider that just about that much cost would have been involved if anyone had spent $36 each minute since the birth of Christ up to the present date.

It is more than the cost to us of the World War. (Appropriations 1917, $1,900,000,000; 1918, $12,700,000,000; 1919, $18,500,000,000—total $33,100,000,000.) It is five times as much money as there was in circulation in the United States in 1939.

Only thing it proves is that figures are almost worthless in considering the stupendous effort of defense upon which the nation is embarked.

None of the money Roosevelt has requested so far is exclusively for the British. The supplemental $3,800,000,000 he asked Monday for the army includes 3,600 bombers which we consider we need for ourselves. Some of these may find their way to the British, but only if they are to be replaced from subsequent British orders.

The coming $400,000,000 or $500,000,000 appropriation exclusively for British needs will cover their first new orders for planes, bombers, merchant ships, small fighting craft like torpedo boats, anti-aircraft guns, tanks and ammunition.

Administration powers in the house have been edging around towards a sympathetic congressional inquiry into defense contracts probably to ward off a critical one. Floor Leader McCormack and Chairman Vinson of the naval affairs and May of the military affairs committees got their heads together quietly at lunch one day this week. A joint committee of house and senate would be the proper agency to make the inquiry.

The increasing crescendo from the opposition quarter the past few days caused some nervousness downtown about the outcome of the lend-lease bill debate. After reconnoitering the situation, the authorities decided to tighten their lines, thought no more drastic steps would be necessary.

Canvasses indicated the opposition had not gained many sure senate votes. Only conversion attributed directly to the debate was that of Aiken of Vermont, although some classed Reynolds of North Carolina as an opposition gain.

Administration had no doubt about the outcome, but wanted to keep the debate as free from animosity as possible, and the bill free from amendments so that the president's actions hereafter will not be limited by the necessity of appeasing the minority.

You cannot always tell when a senator is filibustering. Some of them just naturally talk so much they sound dilatory. But the wisest counselors of the opposition have sworn privately they do not intend to use seriously the weapon of delay. They just haven't enough men who want to filibuster to make such a drastic step successful.

The 1940 Census reported 241,856 gasoline filling stations in the U.S. compared with 197,568 in 1935.

The 1940 Census showed 169,742 restaurants, cafes and other eating places in the U.S.

Chicago Attorney Seeks Court Order He Be Made Supt. of Motor Carriers

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A suit was filed yesterday in Circuit court by Attorney Kieran P. O'Gallagher in which he asks that officers of the state department of public works and buildings be compelled to appoint him superintendent of the division of motor carriers.

It is his allegation that he was qualified for the position on the basis of having passed a civil service examination for the post last November.

The division at present is under supervision of an acting superintendent, Chaion Aiken, who was named upon the resignation of F. W. Lewis, Robinson, former Democratic state representative.

The division is charged with administration of the Illinois truck regulatory law.

YESTERDAY: April is seriously ill with flu for several days. She was exhausted, almost had pneumonia. Neither she nor her friends can care for her; the boy friends all left her room with flowers. But the emptiness in her heart remains.

NO WORD FROM KENT
CHAPTER XVI
ANN returned the next day, sweet-faced, saddened.

From her room upstairs where she sat bolstered in pillows, April heard the first greetings in the hall.

Ann was saying with a catch in her throat, "You're such darlings. I can't tell you how happy I am to be home. It's better than being a prima donna."

She was all sympathy and kindness to April. "I'll be a Nightingale one way or another," she smiled. "Wait until you see how I'll nurse you, April. It doesn't seem right for anyone as gay as you to have your wings clipped."

"It isn't my wings," April managed to grin. "It's my hoof."

In those first days of Ann's homecoming, April was beside herself to know the news of Kent. Had he written to Ann? Was he ready for the operation? Had he told Ann at last what had happened to his eyes?

Because she feared a word or a look would give her away, April kept silent, taking refuge in long periods when she stayed with her eyes closed, pretending sleep.

Mother guessed nothing. She beamed because April's ankle was improving; she sparkled at having Ann back from New York. "It seems like old times to have my two little girls with me again."

APRIL caught herself studying Ann one day. If there were such a thing as great sorrow purifying one's face and features, that had happened to Ann, she decided.

Her sister's hair was still mole color, worn in the same simple style; her features quite as indefinite. But there was something close to beauty in her pallor and the gentle brown eyes.

That day, April almost spoke aloud to Ann. "What do you hear from Kent?" she wanted to say, but she kept her lips tight.

It wasn't until Ann had been home a week that Kent's letter arrived.

April knew it the minute Ann walked into her room.

Without preamble Ann began, "Did you know when Kent was home on leave that he had been temporarily blinded in an accident at camp?"

"Why—why, yes, that night I met him at the train, I knew."

"You should have told me."

"It was the night before your audition with Vivano. I was afraid it would upset you."

April had kept her head down. Now panic rose. If she acted self-conscious, ashamed, Ann would think she was guilty. So she met Ann's eyes with a defiance she didn't feel.

Ann stared at her with the same brown eyes, the same outwardly gentle expression. But behind it all, April felt a steeliness, the first hint of suspicion.

"If I'd known Kent needed me," Ann was saying, "I would have come home from the ends of the earth to be with him. Never forget that, April."

AFTER that, the Burnett house quieted down, outwardly serene and at peace. But a change had taken place, something deep and under the surface. Octavia sensed it, even though she kept grinning her marshmallow smile every time she laid her eyes on "her little lamb." Nip was aware of it and took to prowling in the rooms and spending long times curled up beside April.

April herself probably expressed it best on the first day she took a few wobbly steps around her room. "I'll have to get going," she said to her mother, who was busy sewing on something white and frilly for Ann. "This house is wearing me down. It's too quiet—like doom was going to crack one of these days. Besides, I'm fast going out of circulation. Look at my room. Why, when I was first sick, I was smothered in blooms. Every time I looked up, love had sent another gift of roses."

Mother smiled and pointed to the blue vase which brimmed with fresh yellow tulips. "Hal Parks has been faithful," she reminded April.

"Hal?" Oh, yes. The constant suitor.

"He telephones religiously to learn how you are and wants to be your first visitor."

"Yes?" April's mouth twisted into a ghost of her old-time smile. After awhile she said, "You might tell him he can have that honor. I'll be all set to see him in a week or so."

She turned to her mother. There was this question, this all-important answer she must have before she could pick up her own life and go on. It had to do with Kent Carter.

"Mother, does Ann say how Kent Carter is?"

Mother looked up quickly and then bent to her work. "Ann is so shy," she sighed. "So reticent about talking of anything which she feels deeply. But there was a letter from Kent yesterday from which she read me parts. Surgeons have operated on Kent's eyes."

April was standing at the window. One hand reached forward and clutched the cretonne drape for support.

"Was—the operation a success?"

"It won't be known until the bandages are removed."

SO the days went by, in a lovely dazzle of blue ice and spangled snow.

What April had said jokingly about being out of circulation, was turning out to be more fact than fun. No more "Sorry to learn you're sick" cards; no more flowers except those from Hal. Even the telephone was silent.

"It doesn't take long," April brooded, "for boy-friends like mine to forget."

A party girl, a Glitterbug, the belle of the town when she could dart about, but nobody when a game ankle kept her house-bound. When she fussed at the mirror, it even seemed as if she looked different, older.

She started knitting for the Red Cross to pass the hours; patiently hemmed small garments for war refugee children.

Then one night, Hal Parks paid his long awaited visit.

He stood in the door of April's room, dark, debonair, with the clipped mustache which made him, about-town.

Aburdly, April felt her eyes filling with tears. Dear Hal! He was the stand-by, the devoted one, grateful for the haven his arms promised as they enfolded her.

DeMolays Receive Merit Badges at Annual Banquet

Seven members of Dixon chapter, Order of DeMolay, received badges of merit for outstanding accomplishments at the chapter's twelfth annual banquet last evening in Brinton Memorial Masonic temple. Approximately 100 members and guests attended the event, which was open to the public.

James R. Palmer, chairman of the advisory committee, presented the following awards: Robert Sanborn—Blue honor key, a bar for merit as master counselor, and Bars Two and Three, (20 petitions); Darrell Coakley—Medal bar for ritual; Robert Tennant—Medal bar for one-year attendance and medal bar for one-year ritual; James Palmer, Jr.—Medal bar for one-year ritual; Fred Sanford—Medal bar for one-year ritual; Fred Travis—Medal bar for one-year ritual; Arnold Spangler—Medal bar for one-year ritual; Bernard Frazer, Jr.—Medal bar for five petitions.

DeMolay mothers served the banquet. Afterward, Master Councilor Darrell Coakley introduced Mr. Palmer, who acted as toastmaster. Impromptu remarks by several chapter advisors preceded the address of the evening, given

LEADS CLASS

Gladys Marth, a senior at Wheaton college, stands high scholastically in her class of 177, it was reported Tuesday at an assembly held in the college chapel. Gladys, who is a daughter of the A. E. Marth of 421 Ottawa avenue, also headed the Philathen Literary society for the last semester, and is listed in the 1940-'41 Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. She is a major in the Christian Education department at Wheaton, the largest liberal arts college in the state.

by State's Attorney Morey C. Pires.

Mr. Pires discussed present world condition in their relationship to the training of the youth of the world, declaring: "If Europe had more organizations such as DeMolay—there would be fewer chances for international conflict".

FAREWELL COURTESY

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Morris and daughter expect to move near Deer Grove about the first of March. In their honor, relatives and friends arranged an evening party recently, presenting the family with a chenille bedspread.

Jane Christensen and Virgil Lange Have Home Bridal

Baskets of white snapdragons and yellow jonquils decorated the living room at the Olaf Christensen home north of Walnut, Wednesday afternoon, for the wedding of the Christensens' daughter, Jane, to Virgil Lange, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lange of Ohio. The Rev. W. T. Street performed the single ring ceremony at 2:30 o'clock in the presence of 40 relatives and friends.

The bride chose a street dress of soldier blue crepe for her wedding attire. Yellow roses and white sweetpeas formed her shoulder corsage.

Miss Iona Lange, the bridegroom's sister, was Miss Christensen's only attendant. She was dressed in blue and white crepe, with a corsage of pink roses and orchid sweetpeas.

Richard Lange served his brother as best man.

A wedding lunch was served, following the ceremony, by four cousins, Eleanor and Charles Bernam Keigwin, and Jean and Cecil Plum. Yellow and white tapers decorated the bride's table, with a decorated wedding cake as the centerpiece.

After a brief wedding trip into Iowa, the couple will be at home on a farm north of Walnut. Mrs. Lange was graduated from Walnut high school with the class of 1940.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lange and children, Sheldon, Harold and Gilbert, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lange, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lange, Mrs. Dora Griffin and daughters Irene and Maxine, and Mrs. Anna Johnson and daughter Ruth, Princeton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lange, Oskaloosa, Iowa; Mrs. Fhura Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Keigwin, Eleanor and Charles Bernam, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keigwin, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Plum, Mrs. Nettie Keigwin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stehl, the Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Street, Alfred Larson, Lee Buzzard, Verna Schulte, Mrs. Frank Ross, and Mrs. Harold Wallis.

U.S. retail sales of $42,023,818, 900 in 1939 surpassed the 1935 Census of Business total, $32,791,212, 000, by 28 percent, the Census Bureau reports.

Dixon Couple Is Moving to Chicago Apartment Hotel

Farewell courtesies, as well as plans for moving to a new address in Chicago, are occupying the L. E. Dunkelbergers and their friends as time for the couple's departure draws near. Mr. and Mrs. Dunkelberger expect to leave some time Saturday for their new home in the St. Clair apartment hotel, and on March 20, Mrs. Dunkelberger plans to accompany Mrs. R. C. Ascher of Detroit southward for a month's vacation at Miami Beach.

Last evening, the L. E. Sharpes made reservations for a tea room dinner, with table tennis games following at the Sharpe home. Their party, arranged in compliment to the Dunkelbergers, numbered ten.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McMaster are entertaining at dinner this evening at their home, and tomorrow evening Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hubert will be dinner hosts at Peter Piper's, with Mr. and Mrs. Dunkelberger as special guests. Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Zoelck arranged a dinner party for Tuesday evening.

The Dunkelbergers' daughter, Kathryn, who is a second-year student at Duke university, Woman's college in Durham, N. C., and her roommate, Miriam Kammerer of St. Petersburg, Fla. will leave Durham on March 22 to spend their spring vacation in New York City as guests of Helena Gundlach of Chile. S. A. Helena's mother is spending the winter in New York.

Kathryn's brother, Lloyd, Jr., a freshman on the Duke university campus, will spend the vacation recess with a classmate in Washington, D. C.

IS PROMOTED AT LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

Dr. Stewart Craig Thomson of Byron has been promoted to an assistant professor of anatomy at Loyola university school of medicine in Chicago. Announcement of the promotion was made at a recent faculty dinner at the Stevens Hotel.

Dr. Thomson has been a faculty member at Loyola since 1936. He did graduate work in anatomy at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1938, and returned to Chicago just before the present war began. He is a son of the late Dr. Stewart C. Thomson, who practiced medicine for many years at Byron and was well-known in northern Illinois medical circles.

EVENING PARTY

Purer Spry lets you get the FULL tempting taste of these light tender rolls with rich brown sugar glaze on top

Spry FULL FLAVOR Cherry Rolls

3 tablespoons Spry
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup shredded coconut
12 maraschino cherries, firmly packed
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons Spry
3/4 cup milk (about)
3/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
3/4 cup shredded coconut, chopped

• Combine first three ingredients. Spread muffin pans thickly with mixture. Sprinkle a few almonds of coconut in bottom of each cup and put a cherry in center of each.

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in Spry until mixture is as fine as meal. (You'll marvel how easily Spry mixes.) Add milk, mixing until a soft dough is formed. Knead lightly about 20 seconds.

Roll dough into a rectangle 1/4-inch thick. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with mixture of brown sugar and coconut. Roll like jelly roll and cut in 1-inch slices. Place in muffin pans. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 deliciously light, tender rolls. Use Spry for all hot breads—for cakes, pastry, frying.

Presenting the biggest and most complete line of LOW-PRICED cars in Pontiac History

Metropolitan "Torpedo" Six Four-Door Sedan, $921* (white sidewall tires extra)

Addition of New Metropolitan "Torpedo" Sedan increases De Luxe Series to 6 Models with prices as low as $828*

WITH THE INTRODUCTION of its glamorous new Metropolitan "Torpedo" Sedan, Pontiac rounds out the most complete line of low-priced cars in its entire history—six big, handsome De Luxe models with bodies by Fisher, every one available with either a six-cylinder or an eight-cylinder engine.

The new Metropolitan Sedan takes its place among the motor car style hits of all time. Partnered after a higher-priced and sensationally successful Pontiac model, it combines unusual rear-compartment spaciousness with the privacy possible only in 4-door, 4-window design.

In addition to the new Metropolitan, Pontiac's De Luxe series now includes the 4-door 6-window Sedan; the Sedan Coupe; the 2-door Sedan; the Business Coupe and the very smart Convertible Sedan Coupe.

All six of these lowest-priced Pontiacs offer the sound, time-tried engineering principles which have won Pontiac such an excellent reputation for riding comfort, handling ease and long, trouble-free service. And all of them are exceptionally economical to own and drive.

Plan to see the Metropolitan Sedan—as well as the Pontiac "Torpedoes"—which are offered in a wide range of prices. And remember... if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Pontiac.

De Luxe "Torpedo" Six Business Coupe, $828* (white sidewall tires extra) also available in De Luxe "Torpedo" Six Sedan Coupe, $864*

FIRST LENTEN SERVICE

Special Ash Wednesday union services were conducted last evening at St. Paul's Lutheran church, the Rev. Herbert J. Doran, pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivering the sermon. Several other pastors of the community participated and the choir of St. Paul's church rendered the musical section of the program.

The Rev. Mr. Doran referred to the 18th chapter of Luke to point out five incidents in a day's life with Jesus to be used as a guide in the observation of the Lenten season. The parable of the unfortunate widow was used by the speaker to demonstrate faithfulness in worship; the parable of the Pharisee and the publican illustrated self examination, humility to the seeking for God's forgiveness; the placing of the child in the midst presented the need for childlike simplicity; and the incident of the rich young ruler was used to demonstrate the need for self-sacrifice the last incident concerning Peter's desire for reward. The Rev. Mr. Doran used this illustration in climaxing his message with the fact that Lent closes with victory and hope at Easter.

Years Ago

(From Dixon Telegraph)

39 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Carrie Nation left Dixon for Amboy this forenoon, happy in the thought that she had reformed our city in two days. Leonard Moeller, one of the members of the old Dixon running team of 1879, is here from Sioux Falls, S. D., visiting his father, August Moeller who is ill.

Last evening at the home of the bride's parents in North Dixon occurred the wedding of Miss Grace A. Warner and Frank A. Beede of Palmyra.

25 YEARS AGO

About $300,000 was spent in building improvements in Dixon in 1915, a survey has disclosed.

Thomas Creighton of Amboy died suddenly Tuesday night in the cab of a traction engine on the Finn farm.

Consul A. B. Whitcombe of the Lincoln Highway Association has been notified that the route will be re-marked during the coming summer.

10 YEARS AGO

James William Rogers, employed at the Borden plant for many years, passed away at the Sherman hospital in Elgin last evening.

Lyle Seebolt and Harry Biessecker have taken over the management of the Cities Service station on Hennepin avenue and River street.

Church Societies

Amoma Class—Program, games and refreshments in the patriotic motif awaited Amoma class members of the Baptist Sunday school at their monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Ray Johnson were co-hostesses.

A business session conducted by Mrs. Leo Youngblood, and devotionals led by Miss Phyllis Ryce, preceded the following program: Patriotic songs; reading "Washington and Lincoln," Mrs. Robert Stanley; "Washington's Farewell to His Army," Mrs. Henry Busker; games, with prizes for Mrs. John Nelles, Mrs. Henry Busker, Mrs. George Bain, Mrs. Oscar Stanley and Mrs. Olive Bradford. Tributes to Washington were heard during roll call.

A scrambled word contest, when solved, informed the guests that "Refreshments Were Ready." Mrs. George Bain is to entertain at the next meeting.

World Day of Prayer—Seventeen Dixon churches will participate in the annual World Day of Prayer service, to be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the First Methodist church. Everyone, both men and women, are invited to attend.

I. H. C. STRIKE POSTPONED

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The intervention of John R. Steelman, director of the federal conciliation service, brought a postponement today in a strike call at the International Harvester Company's McCormick works here.

The C. I. O. Farm Equipment Workers Organizing Committee said that its decision to call work-off the job had been reached just before Settlemann telephoned last night from Washington.

Final efforts to mediate the dispute probably will be made in Washington, said Federal Conciliator David Roadley, who conferred yesterday with union chiefs.

Approximately 6,000 men are employed in making farm implements at the McCormick works. The union announced that a majority had authorized a strike call in the event the firm declined to meet union demands. The latter included abolition of piece work, increases in minimum wage rates, and compensation for workers called in the draft.

These demands were the crux of disputes which already have closed the firm's plants at Rock Falls, Ill., and Richmond, Ind.

High-test gasoline was dripping from the wrecked plane.

The plane first struck among some pines, ripping away one of its metal-covered wings and mowing a path through the trees. It crashed another 150 yards or so, where a plane impaled the second wing and the sliced-open cabin skidded to a stop some 50 yards further.

Rosenfeld said the passengers had no indication that anything was wrong until the plane started losing altitude, then the lights went out and the impact came a few seconds later.

No Censorship Is Contemplated New Official Declares

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Lowell Mellett, director of the office of government reports, declared specifically no press or radio censorship is contemplated by the administration.

Testifying before the house expenditures committee on a bill to authorize a $1,500,000 fund for his office, Mellett said:

"This does not mean, in case there should be war, that there would not be a military censorship in certain respects, as there always has been and I presume always will be.

"Censorship in the sense that I believe is feared, of the kind we see abroad—actual censorship of newspapers or other publications—is not contemplated."

The same thing, he added, applies to the radio.

Soon afterwards, the committee approved the legislation by what Chairman O'Leary (D-NY) said was a straight party vote. All Democrats present, he told reporters, voted to recommend the bill and all Republicans present opposed it.

F. D. R. Urges Support

Shortly before Mellett gave his testimony, O'Leary made public a letter from President Roosevelt urging approval of the authorization on the ground the office was necessary to give the chief executive, congress and federal departments "information concerning the progress of the nation's business."

In direct discussion of authorizing legislation, Representative Gifford (R-Mass) interposed the comment that he "dreaded this bill as a propaganda machine."

Mellett said that the office, under different names, had operated since 1933. One of its functions is to act as a clipping bureau for government departments. In that connection, Mellett told the committee:

"During the past year we passed out (to various bureaus in newspaper clippings) a great deal more criticism than favorable comment."

Although land in farms was greater than ever before, the 1940 Census reported a 3.1 percent decline in the number of farms since 1930. The new total is 6,096,789, compared with 6,813,350 in 1935 and 6,288,648 in 1930.

U.S. citizens are spending more money for newspaper subscriptions now than even in the lush days of 1929, according to the Census.

The average dollar value of U.S. farms, as shown by the 1940 Census, was $5,518.

Excuse Our Dust

You won't recognize your favorite shopping center after its features are rearranged. The job is in the hands of expert surgeons who assure us that the rejuvenation will result in easier and more pleasant shopping for our patrons. . . .

We're just doing our spring cleaning early so that we'll be all set for the wonderful lines of spring merchandise which we plan to show this season. . . .

We hope you'll pardon us if we brag a bit about our plans, but we're sure that you'll agree that our new set-up is only according to our policy of keeping our store as modern and pleasing as the merchandise we display. . . .

So—just excuse our dust for the present and overlook our appearance. Naturally, we're carrying on our business as usual and hope you'll drop in to see how we're changing our store. Just between you and us—there are some super bargains in our store that we're practically giving away to make room for new stock.

Fugitive Will County Murderer in Custody in Mexico; May Hang

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—State's Attorney James E. Burke announced he had received a communication from Secretary of State Cordell Hull, through the office of Gov. Dwight Green, saying that Bernardo Roa, a convicted murderer who escaped from the Will county jail in 1927, had been found in Mexico.

Secretary Hull asked if the state wished to start extradition proceedings against Roa, who was under sentence to hang for the murder of Assistant Warden Peter slain during a riot at Stateville prison in 1926.

Burke said he had advised Gov. Green that Will county still wanted Roa.

Roa would be hanged, if returned, despite the fact that the state laws now provide for electrocution of condemned prisoners.

He was convicted before the present law was passed. Roa fled the county jail with five companions shortly before their scheduled execution. Four of the others were captured and hanged later. One was shot and killed.

SEC Investigators Ignore Companies; Submit Criticism

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Despite a declaration by the chairman of the monopoly committee that Federal regulation of life insurance companies is inadvisable at this time, staff members of the Securities and Exchange Commission made ready to submit their recommendations on the subject to the committee tomorrow.

The two SEC specialists, Gerhard A. Gesell and Ernest J. Howe, made a special study of life insurance concerns for the committee and yesterday delivered a report criticizing several features which they claimed existed in the business.

They declared they had found "flagrant cases of conflict (of interest) and breach of trust" on the part of some insurance directors which, they contended, put the funds of many policy-holders "in jeopardy".

The report stated, however, that the alleged practices disclosed at monopoly committee hearings were not such as would "undermine the soundness of the basic principles upon which the principle of life insurance is founded".

In releasing the report, Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), committee chairman, made it clear that it represented only the view of Gesell and Howe, and not the committee or the SEC.

Quickly following the release of the investigators' report, E. E. Rhodes, vice president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N. J., protested that it ignored a statement submitted to the monopoly committee last year by 178 insurance company presidents, presenting their side of the case.

Government Aids in Placing Those Opposing Fighting

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The government and America's conscientious objectors are working out a program for cooperation.

It is different now—because laws and views have been broadened—than in World War days when many a man was sent to jail because he said his conscience conflicted with the government's demands that he at least perform non-combatant duty.

Now those who object to participation in any military function will be assigned to camps to work on soil erosion projects, fight forest fires, construct roads and bridges and thus relieve men who do not have conscientious scruples against military service.

Those who object to combatant duty would minister to wounded on the battlefields and the ailing and injured in training camps, handle supplies, cook and perform similar tasks. Many already have volunteered for such service.

Many Cooperate

"High government officials with whom we have dealt disagree completely with our viewpoint, but they have taken the attitude that preservation of minority rights is the difference between a democratic form of society and the totalitarian system," said Paul Comly French, former Philadelphia newspaperman, who is executive secretary of the National Service Board for Religious Objectors.

His organization is cooperating with the government in establishing work camps for draftees whose beliefs preclude their participation in war in any form.

Cooperating with the National Service Board for Religious Objectors in the establishment of camps are the Federal Council of Churches, the Selective Service Board and many government agencies, such as the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The National Service Board, headed by Dr. M. R. Ziegler of Elgin, Ill., a leader in the Church of the Brethren, has undertaken to feed and clothe and provide hospitalization for draftees assigned to the camps.

Nelson News

Nelson—Fred Hausen of Franklin Grove was a caller at the M. C. Stitzel home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Effie Farber came Saturday from Council Bluffs, Ia., to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Minton for a few weeks.

A number of Nelsonites have mumps. All of the children of the Nushbaum family have had them and Clement, May and Gordon Barnes are also afflicted.

E. C. Conrad of Los Angeles, and his sister, Mrs. Chrystal Fay and Bob Stitzel, motored out from Chicago Sunday and visited relatives. Mr. Conrad is a nephew of Mrs. G. H. Palmer and M. C. Stitzel and is on his way home from Detroit where he purchased a new car.

Bob Stitzel returned to his studies Monday morning.

The Palmers motored to Princeton, with Mr. Conrad and sister Mrs. Fay where they visited the Glen Palmer's Monday.

Miss Gilda Bevilacqua came out from Chicago Friday and spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua.

Miss Celeste Miller of St. Mary's hospital at DeKalb spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Beattie Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bohlken went to Oregon Sunday to visit Mrs. Bohlken's mother, Mrs. Clara Smice who is quite ill and is nearly 91 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Minton and son Ronnie and Mrs. Effie Farber were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Algren.

Gen. Lawton to Leave for Camp March 9th

Chicago.—(AP)—Major General Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the 33rd division, Illinois National Guard, said he plans to leave March 9 for Camp Forrest, Tenn., where Illinois Guardsmen will begin a year's training next month.

Gen. Lawton, who will be in command at the camp, said final schedules for the guardsmen's departure were being worked out at division headquarters.

TREATY SIGNED

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Hungarian-Yugoslav friendship treaty was ratified today.

Weekly Food and Marketing Letter by Mrs. Emily M. Lautz for Dixon Telegraph Readers

SUBSTANTIAL DISHES
"Drumsticks" With Noodles
1 pound veal cutlet, cubed
1 pound pork, cubed
Salt and pepper
1 cup fine bread crumbs
1 egg
2 tablespoons water
1 medium onion
6 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup water
10 wooden skewers
Have both veal and pork cut in 1 1/2 inch cubes. Place alternate sections of meat on wooden skewers. Roll drumsticks in bread crumbs, dip in mixture of beaten egg and 2 tablespoons water, and dip again in crumbs.

Chop or dice the onion and brown in shortening in large fry pan. Add drumsticks and brown lightly. Add 1/2 cup water, cover and simmer over low heat 1 hour. Serve the drumsticks around the noodle ring, or mound of fluffy rice. Serves 6.

Noodle Ring
1 box package noodles
4 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon salt
6 strips pimento
2 tablespoons parsley
3 cups cooked green peas
4 tablespoons melted butter
Place noodles in boiling salted water. Cook over medium heat 8 minutes. Drain well and add butter. Pack noodles in buttered ring mold. Unmold on heated plate.
Garnish with chopped parsley and strips or fancy shapes of pimento. Fill the center of mold with green peas.

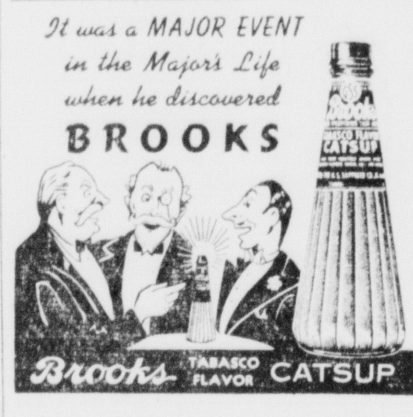

Leftover bacon? Crumble crisp cooked bacon into meat leaves, white sauce, tossed green salads, raiterit, for extra flavor. Fits into sandwiches and canape spreads, too.

PARTY TREAT
Brazil Nut Coffee Tartlets
1/2 cup light brown sugar
1-3 cup sifted flour
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup strong coffee
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts
1 cup top milk
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
6 whole Brazil nuts
6 baked tart shells
Combine and mix sugar and flour; add beaten eggs. Scald coffee and milk and stir slowly into egg mixture. Cook over boiling water 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add butter and cool. Add vanilla and chopped Brazil nuts.

Fill pastry shells and top with whipped cream. Garnish with whole Brazil nuts. (Note: Coffee should be double strength and freshly made.)

Banana Cup Cakes
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup ripe bananas, mashed
Use ripe bananas (yellow peel flecked with brown; 2 to 3 needed). Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat shortening until creamy. Add sugar gradually and vanilla, and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition until fluffy. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas and milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Turn into well-greased muffin pans. Bake about 25 minutes in moderate oven 375 degrees F.

Annual newspaper receipts from subscriptions amount to over $306,000,000. This was an annual increase of $18,685,000 in ten years.

Weekly Food and Marketing Letter by Mrs. Emily M. Lautz for Dixon Telegraph Readers

Three national women's organizations, the American Association of University Women, the American Home Economics Association and the General Federation of Women's Clubs are calling upon their members throughout the country to undertake a new experiment in shopping.

These three outstanding organizations, numbering more than 2,500,000 members, have started a study of the new informative and grade labels approved by the National Consumer-Retailer Council, Inc., and recently adopted by four large retail food companies for certain lines of canned fruits and vegetables.

The purpose of the study is to find out whether the new labels enable consumers to buy more intelligently and whether such labels gain the acceptance of the buying public.

The labels adopted will state the grade of the product, A, B, or C. In addition, the labels will describe clearly the factors on which the grade designations are based. Thus it will be easy for the shopper to compare the quality characteristics of the different grades of a given product. In addition the labels will give size, average number of servings, recipes and other pertinent information applying to the particular commodity.

Plans for the study of the labels, which is to be nation-wide in scope, have been formulated under the direction of a committee of four notable women: Mrs. Harriet R. Howe of the American Home Economics Association, who is chairman of the Council's Committee on Food Labeling; Mrs. Sallie Orr Dunbar of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Dr. Esther Cole Franklin of the American Association of University Women and Dr. Faith M. Williams of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Peas, tomatoes, corn and peaches are the four commodities selected for the study, although the new labels are to be used on other fruits and vegetables as well. The study is expected to begin this month, depending upon how soon local committees of women can be organized and how soon stores can get the new products on their shelves.

It is believed that the final results will be highly significant because the organized women's groups have long been emphasizing the need for more informative labeling in order to enable consumers to buy more wisely. Numerous indecisive efforts have been made along varied lines, but even legislation has not solved the problem satisfactorily to the vast army of women customers of retail stores.

The new labels have been developed as a result of the work of the National Consumer-Retailer Council, Inc., which has set up a committee on food labels consisting of representatives from consumer groups, food distributors, canners and government experts. Study of the labels will be undertaken at a series of meetings to be held by the local groups of the national organizations involved. At one meeting both the public and retail merchants will be invited to hear the discussion and will be given an opportunity to state their points of view.

EASY-TO-MAKE Pastry Pinwheels

Even a few bites of pie pastry can be converted into delicacies to serve with tea, salad, or as appetizers. Use your favorite cheese or combination of flavors for baked canapés made this way:

Spread thinly-rolled pastry with equal portions of Roquefort and pimiento cheese. Roll up like tiny pinwheels. Cut off quarter-inch slices and bake them, flat, for 5 minutes in a moderate oven 375 degrees F. To glaze, brush with cream, milk, or egg white whipped with 1 tablespoon water. Good hot or cold.

Peanut Surprise

1 egg
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
1 to 2 tablespoons rolled peanuts
1-2 teaspoon grated orange peel
Salted crackers

Beat egg whites until very stiff. Fold in the sugar, and the rolled peanuts. Add grated orange peel. If mixture seems too thin, whip in 1 to 2 extra teaspoons sugar. Drop by the half teaspoon on the crackers and place in moderately hot oven 350 degrees F. or under medium broiler flame until delicately browned. Do not pile these on the plate.

Baked Apple Ice Cream

1 cup boiled soft custard
1 cup sieved baked apple
1 cup whipped cream
Powdered sugar

Blend all ingredients. Add small quantity powdered sugar to taste, if not sweet enough. Freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator.

Strained apple sauce may be substituted, although the baked apple yields special flavor.

All-Brwn Molasses Cookies

1-2 cup shortening
3-4 cup sugar
1 egg
1-2 cup molasses
1 1-2 cups all-brwn
1 1-2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1 1-2 cups sifted flour
1 1-2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon ginger
1 1-2 teaspoons cinnamon

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Stir in molasses, all-brwn and milk, and let stand while sifting dry ingredients. Sift flour, soda, salt and spices together; add to first mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet about 2 inches apart. Bake about 15 minutes in moderate hot oven 400 degrees F. Yield: 2 1-2 dozen cookies (3 inches in diameter).

Cocktail Sauce

Fish appetizers are as seasonal as oysters, and they are easily served when a supply of well-chilled, savory sauce is stored in the refrigerator. This sauce is excellent with oyster, shrimp, clam, crabmeat or lobster cocktail. Try a few drops also in spreads for toast or crackers. Mix these ingredients thoroughly and store in tightly-covered jar in cold place:

1-2 cup catsup or chili sauce
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Few drops Tabasco
Prepared horseradish to taste

1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup finely chopped celery
2 teaspoons table sauce

NEWS ABOUT FOOD

Have you ever wondered about "green" smelts? This term means that the fish are fresh, not frozen. Another very logical reason is that when they are alive, the darting smelts fairly glint with bright green and flashes of silver. Among the fish which have been plentiful and reasonably priced within the last few weeks are the salt-water varieties of smelts and flounders.

It took the bees a long time to get around to it, but they are now making avocado honey. The new treat is called sun-ripened honey and comes from California. From Long Island comes a new honey which blends the flavors of peach and apple blossoms and clover.

Market authorities are urging women to go shopping and pick out their own vegetables, point out that it is particularly important at this season with constantly changing values. Some vegetables are high priced and in others quality varies between excellent and poor. Consumers who recall the staggering prices paid for new potatoes in February not many years ago were amazed to see small Bliss potatoes from Florida in market early this month, at about six cents a pound. They can be cooked and served in their per-thin reddish skins, thereby preserving their full food value. Cook fresh parsley or mint with them.

Remember that your rich, flavory meat stew will be extra good if it stands in the refrigerator overnight, to be reheated next day.

If jam becomes stiff or sugary, place it in a warm oven just long enough to allow the sugar to melt.

The first continuous rolling mill for producing wide strip-sheets was installed in the steel industry in 1926.

China has an annual soybean production of 217, 192,000 bushels, leading the world in this commodity.

The Same Expert Care

At the first sign of a chest cold—the Dione Quintuplets' chests and throats are rubbed with Children's Mild Musterole—a product made especially to promptly relieve the DISTRESS of children's colds and resulting bronchial and croupy coughs.

Relief usually comes quickly because Musterole is MORE than an ordinary "salve." It helps break up local congestion. As Musterole is used on the Quints you may be sure you are using just about the BEST product made. Also in Regular and Extra Strength for those preferring a stronger product.

LET'S SUPPOSE THAT YOU ARE MRS. BOWERS

Sometimes making believe you are someone else is fun. It often-times is profitable, too. It lets you see the other person's problems... and lets you understand them better.

In this case you are Mrs. Bowers. And for one reason or other you want to pick up some pin-money. So you have decided to bake bread and sell it to the people of your neighborhood. Now there are two ways to go about selling your bread. You can either take a gamble and bake a batch and send a boy from door to door selling it... or you can take orders and bake only what your customers want. Which is the better way?... the more economical? What way will give your customers the best price and still permit you to pay the full price for the best ingredients?

Of course, you have the answer right off! If you were Mrs. Bowers you would get your orders first, then bake, then send your boy to deliver it! It is plain that baking to order would do away with the hazard of baking more than you could sell... and so your price to your customers would be only for what you actually baked. No cost of unsold bread would figure in the price you charged. Your customers would get more for their money.

Mrs. Bowers' imaginary bread business exemplifies a principle followed by A&P in baking bread for its Stores and Super Markets. A&P Bakeries "bake bread to order" for A&P Stores. For without exception, an A&P Store manager can estimate almost to the loaf what he can sell (as a rule, he'll order too little—rarely ever too much). Thus unsold bread... that must figure in the cost of every loaf sold... is cut to the very minimum. This means that you pay less than it is usual to ask for bread as good as the A&P kind... for not all bakers can do as your A&P bakery does.

Baking bread "to order" and keeping baking costs down efficiently without affecting quality are but two of scores of things A&P does to supply you with better baked goods for less money. A&P even figures its delivery costs down to fractions... and plans its bread-truck routes with railroad-precision for loads, stops and schedules. For every saving that can be made... in the A&P-way of doing business... is money to be returned to its customers.

For more than 80 years, A&P has crusaded against waste in the making and marketing of foods. Wherever possible, A&P has sought to eliminate unnecessary expense... to the end that it stores can provide more and better foods for more people for less money.

The A&P Super Market is the newest and greatest expression of A&P's aim to give its customers more fine foods for their money. For the A&P Super Market is the most economical and efficient food store ever invented. It offers you groceries, meats and fish, fruits and vegetables, baked goods and dairy products—all under one big roof. And because it sells so much more fine food to so many more people, its selling costs are the lowest, in our belief, that any group of stores has ever been able to successfully maintain. Thus A&P Super Market prices are low throughout the store every day.* Shop at your A&P Super Market today and save! It's fun to go A&P Super Marketing!

*You gain nothing from "special bargains" when you are charged higher prices for other things to make up for them. At A&P Super Markets you get a low average price on all foods offered. Thus, if you buy all your weekly food needs in an A&P Super Market, you keep your complete food bill low.

St. Flannen's Church

Ash Wednesday ushered in the Lenten season in St. Flannen's Catholic church. The services of this penitential day began with the early mass at which time ashes were distributed and in the evening at 7:30 ashes were distributed again.

On Sunday morning the Lenten pastoral of the Bishop, Most Rev. Edward F. Hoban, was read by the pastor at both masses at which time the customary Lenten regulations of the church were defined.

Evening devotions during the Lenten season will be conducted on Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:30 p. m.

Sunday masses, 8 and 10 a. m. Daily mass during Lent, 8 a. m. Novena services to Our Most Sorrowful Mother will follow Lenten devotions on Friday evening.

Sunday is regular communion Sunday for the St. Ann society. Confessions on Saturday afternoon and evening and following devotions on Friday evening. Catechism for the children on Saturday morning, 9:30 a. m.

Farwell Party

A farwell party was given for Mr. and Mrs. William Dunphy Sunday evening at their home north of town. The Dunphys are moving into the George McDermott farm. Cards and dancing and a delicious lunch furnished an evening of enjoyable entertainment. Prizes in cards were shared by Mrs. William Raabie, Mrs. Thomas Rock and Joseph Ege. Mrs. Andrew Carroll presented the Dunphys with a lovely electric iron. All departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Dunphy happiness in their new home.

Sunday Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hicks entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brill and family of Coleta; Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobs and daughter of Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brill and daughter, Grace, at dinner on Sunday.

DUSTING OFF THE RECORD BOOKS

Back in 1937 some of you will remember that Prophetstown defeated Dixon 18 to 15 in the second game of the regional tournament. We don't know why we mention this at this time, except possibly because Dixon meets the Prophets in the first tournament assignment this year. Scores of regional championship games back through the ages were:

1940—Sterling 41; Dixon 34.
1939—Dixon 48; Sterling 20.
1938—Dixon 28; Prophetstown 20.
1937—Sterling 26; Prophetstown 8.
1936—Dixon 24; Erie 23.
1935—Sterling 15; Rock Falls 12.
1934—Dixon 21; Rock Falls 19.
1933—Sterling 24; Rock Falls 6.
(And Dixon played in all of these tournaments, too).

ALL SET FOR BIG SHOW TONIGHT

If pre-game indications mean anything it looks like a sellout for the Knacks-Globe Trotters basketball feature game here tonight at the high school gymnasium. Just about everyone and his brother is planning to attend. The show starts, you know at 7:00 o'clock when the Dixon State Hospital cagers play the Rochelle K. of C. Manager Bert Cummings has asked that all those who have tickets left are to return them to him at the door tonight and also to turn in their cash receipts.

HIGH SCORERS

Richard Fortney of Amboy won scoring honors in the recent Lee county grade school basketball tournament when he scored 27 points in two games for an average of 13.5 per game. Other high scorers were: B. Herlier of Compton who made 26 points in three games; H. Scott of Ashton with 22 in three; R. Pomeroy of the Lee Center champions with 18 in three; E. Jeannine, also of Lee Center, with 17 in three. M. Watson of Franklin Grove made 16 points, B. Jacobs of Ashton 15, B. Daw of Compton 14, J. Landis of Ashton 14, and R. Bales of Lee Center 13.

PROBABLE LINEUP TONIGHT

Rochelle K. of C. the team which meets the Dixon State Hospital in the curtain raiser to the Globe Trotter's show tonight, bowed to Seward's of Rock Falls early this week, 28 to 20. In the lineup for the Rochelle club were Dame, Hall, DeGryse at forwards, Lorchridge at center and Guilo and Henry as guards. These are the players who will probably see action here tonight.

FRANKLIN GROVE VOLLEY BALL

Starting another round of volley ball games at Franklin Grove Tuesday night the Willard team won three, Gehrt and Henry teams won two of three, Sunday and Stultz teams won one of three and Johnson's club lost three. Next Monday night the Sunday team plays Johnson; Henry vs. Willard and Gehrt vs. Stultz.

CONSISTENCY

You can't ask for much more consistency than Eddie Worley demonstrated in the Classic League bowling last night when he rolled 213-212-212 for 637. Another feature of last night's games was the dead heat in which Dusing and M. McCordle of the Beier's team finished. Each rolled a 504 series.

Classic League Bowling Race Is as Tight as a Drum; Four Tied for Third

Leading positions in the big Classic bowling league are as crowded as a bargain basement on dollar day with the championship still within reach of at least half a dozen quintets.

Still leading the circuit is the Williams DeSoto club with a one game margin over the Sunnikist pies. Last night the leaders were spilled in two games by the Wilbur Lumber company. Leading the winners was Wilbur himself with a 522 series while Ed Worley rolled high three of the evening with 213-212-212 for 637 in leading the losers.

The Sunnikist team narrowed the margin between second and first place by one game when the pie men won two games from the I. N. U. Leading the winners was Davis with 550 while Van Doren counted 525 for the utilities.

Tied for third Three teams—Plozman's, Knacks, Wilbur Lumber and the United Cigar—are now tied for third place only three games behind the leaders.

Last night the United won three games from Plozman's as Bremer rolled 544 for the smokers and Plozman counted 489 for the losers.

Witzleb led Jay's Tavern with a 527 series as he and his mates won two games from the Dixon Machine. Bollman counted 525 for the losers.

Wetly's Pontiacs won two games from the Coca Cola tribe as Bubrick rolled 573 for the winners and Hahn counted 514 for the losers.

Leading the Schlitz Beer team in a two game victory for the Knacks was Krug with a 520 series. Becker scored 551 for the losers.

Beier's Bread won two games from the Hi-Way Grill as Dusing and M. McCordle each counted 504 for the winners and Shuck's 584 was tops for the losers.

No records were broken last night; high games included those of Dusing 236; Shuck 205; Shawenger 206; Bubrick 204; Wetly 201; Dinessness 202; Bremer 214; Davis 212; Van Doren 209; Worley 213-212-212.

Three Lee County Teams Survive Tourney Openers

LEE CENTER AND LEAF RIVER WIN GAMES AT BYRON

GAMES LAST NIGHT
Lee Center 60; Seward 17
Leaf River 51; Kings 27
GAMES TONIGHT
7:30—Byron vs Harmon
8:45—Still Valley vs Kishwaukee

No matter what the outcome of the Byron district basketball tournament is on Saturday night, the fans and teams already are very much impressed by Lee Center's squad which last night rolled up 60 points against Seward's 17. In the nightcap game the Leaf River club trounced Kings, 51 to 27.

Dallam was the flash of last night's brilliant victory for the Lee Center team as he rolled up a total of 24 points on 11 field goals and two free throws. He and his mates counted an 11 to 3 lead at the end of the first period and led 23 to 6 at the half. The winners counted 15 points in the third period and 22 in the last.

Leafers Win

In the nightcap game of the evening Leaf River, second place team in the final standings of the Route 72 conference, outscored the Kings team in every canto of an easy victory. The Leafers led 28 to 16 at the half.

High scorers for the winners was R. Strole with 15 points made on five buckets and five free throws. Baker scored 111 points for the losers.

Tonight Byron meets Harmon of Lee county in the first game at 7:30 and in the nightcap the Stillman Valley lads clash with Kishwaukee.

Dukes to Meet Freeport Here Tomorrow Night

When the lights go out after the Dixon-Freeport basketball games here tomorrow night the blackout will be a signal for an "all-out" war in the regional tournaments. More than that it will be curtains for four Dixon regulars who will have played in their last home game for the Purple and White. With the locking of the gymnasium doors here Bill Witzleb, Bill Shultz, Clarence Kelly and Ardell Bugg are saying goodbye to the local hardwood.

First of all, however, there is an important matter of business which still confronts the Dukes and that an attempt to avenge the Dec. 31 surprise defeat.

Another Important Feature Adding to the importance of tomorrow night's program is the risk which the sophomores encounter in their last game of the season. Undeclared in 15 games to date, Coach C. B. Lindell's lads are putting up everything they have to halt any notion the Freeport underclassmen may have of soiling their record.

Starting for the sophomores will probably be Knack Leeper, Egler, Evans and Loftus who have carried the major share of the burden all season.

Coach L. E. Sharpe is also expected to depend on his five regulars to start the ball bounding in the varsity encounter. This means Kelly and Bugg as forwards, Witzleb at center and Shank and Shultz as guards. Coach Merritt Allen is expected to start Schimpf and Pinnow as forwards, Belle as center and Brown and Cook at guards.

Sports Roundup By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Feb. 27.—Gerry Nugent, who wanted to get rid of his two star pitchers, has succeeded. . . The Dodgers took Kirby Higbe and Uncle Sam soon will relieve the Phils of Hugh Mulcahy. . . Babe Herman put in a bid for the Seattle manager job, but the front office just filed it under "H" and let it go at that. . . Joe Boland, Notre Dame line coach, is wide open for a job and he doesn't mean maybe.

All Quiet In Terre Haute
Bill Butland, the Red Sox pitcher who lives in Terre Haute, reports a very quiet winter. . . He wrote a friend that nothing much happened other than that Dizzy Trout, another home town lad, dropped around to the pool hall to show his World Series emblems.

WAYNE SPENADER OF MENDOTA IS CONFERENCE SCORING CHAMPION

Clarence Kelly and Bill Witzleb of Dixon Are Second and Third in Records Kept By Telegraph Sports Department

The curtain fell Friday night on the 1940-41 North Central conference basketball race with Dixon and Sterling ending in a dead heat, but most of the shouting will be reserved until next week when the six teams of the circuit break into the playoff games of the regional tournaments.

In the final totals of the season, kept by The Dixon Evening Telegraph sports department, Wayne Spenader of Coach Wesley Heinz' Mendota varsity, won scoring honors with a total of 145 points for an average of 14.5 points per game. Young Spenader replaces George Richards of Princeton who won the title last season with a total of 111 points.

In second place this year is Clarence Kelly, forward on the Dixon co-championship team, who scored 126 points. Bill Witzleb, also of Dixon, is third with a total of 118 points. In the records of last season Witzleb was second with 100 tallies and Kelly third with 99.

Spenader was the main cog around which the Mendota team was built this season and he sparked the squad throughout its long and difficult season. He is a senior this year and will be lost to the squad after the tournaments. Last year this diminutive 5-foot-6-inch star scored 69 points in 10 games to tie with his mate, Don Whitmore, for 11th place in the individual records of the circuit.

High scorer on the Sterling team, co-champion with Dixon, is Elvin Duhm who scored 102 points for sixth place. Ahead of him in fourth and fifth places are Swan of Princeton with 111 tallies and Ardell Bugg of Dixon with 107.

The Dixon Dukes won nine games and lost only one—a record which accorded the championship last year, but which this season was equalled by Sterling. In the 10 games the Dukes scored 168 for the top scoring honors which was 74 points better than the total for the same number of games in 1940-41. Sterling scored the second highest number of tallies with 431 in ten games, or 83 points better than last season.

A total of 2,058 points was scored in the 30 league games with 750 field goals and 492 free throws. Last season the conference totals were 750 field goals and 405 free throws for 1905 points.

In number of points this season Dixon scored one less field goal than Sterling but made up for the difference with 118
